PROJECT REQUIREMENTS

Project Summary

Total Fitness is a new fitness centre opening up in North Lanarkshire. They pride themselves on being the health club that promises something for every type of exerciser at every level. That's why they've put a lot more care and thought into the facilities, right down to including a ladies only gym area separate from the main gym.

The business requires a new website to promote the state-of-the-art facilities and attract new members.
